Best design award for OBA website

WITNEY-based web design agency Ridgeway has won an award for its design of the website for the Oxfordshire Business Awards.

Ridgeway, in conjunction with the Oxfordshire Business Awards, received the best graphic design award in the Kentico Site of the Year Awards.

Eleanor Holmes, marketing manager for Ridgeway, said the 2015 Oxfordshire Business Awards website this year had an improved mobile experience, a greater capacity for the number of entries, and enabled sponsors of individual award categories to manage their entries online.

She said Kentico, a content management system based in the Czech Republic, shortlisted the award nominations and then opened the shortlist up to public voting.

Ridgeway and its client Twinings also jointly won Kentico's ecommerce site of the year award.

In the Oxfordshire Business Awards, the three finalists for each of the 14 award categories will be decided on May 6.

This year saw more than 350 entries for the awards, a new record.

The selection will be made by the awards' sponsors, which include The Oxford Times.

Winners will be announced at a gala dinner to be held at the Oxford Thames Four Pillars Hotel, in Sandford-on-Thames, on Friday, June 19. About 500 people are expected to attend.
